MURDER OVERBOARD

Each game booklet contains an illustration for the respective character as well as a detailed role description. We recommend that you hand out the booklets to your guests two to three days before the game, so that everyone can prepare in time. You can use your support code to easily download all role descriptions and email them to your guests.

No one has to dress up to participate in the game, but it's much more fun. Your guests can let their imagination run wild with their costumes if they want to.

MAX HUBBARD (31)

Max dresses very hip and likes to show his success: He wears silk scarves, expensive blazers and luxury watches. He has gelled his hair backwards.

JAMES HUBBARD (30)

James wears large glasses, jeans and a turtleneck or hooded sweater. Of course, he always has his notebook with him.

ANGELINE HOLMES (30)

Angeline's clothes correspond to her self-confident appearance: A trouser suit or a simple but elegant costume would suit her.

MARY SHERMAN (29)

Mary dresses rather reservedly and modestly. A simple short dress would fit. As a bookseller she of course has something to read.

SARAH MERTON (31)

Sarah works as a model and should dress like that. A figure-hugging cocktail dress, for example, would be feasible.

ANTONIO COLUCCI (38)

Our Italian cook likes to show his muscles. A cargo pant and a six-pack dummy would fit as costume.

CAPTAIN JULIAN STEWARD (56)

In our opinion, a captain's uniform with a matching cap is the only conceivable outfit. A white beard and a whistle go well with it.
